Hidalgo County Order Recommends Modified Business Hours of Operation

In response to numerous questions received at the City of McAllen relating to the new Hidalgo County order and Texas Governor Greg Abbott's existing order, our objective is to answer these questions from business owners and the community. These questions mainly revolve around whether businesses must close.

As Hidalgo County Judge Richard Cortez indicated, local officials are not allowed under the Governor's order to require businesses to close. However, we support the efforts of Judge Cortez to stop the spread of the virus. We strongly encourage all our business community to join in such efforts by reducing their hours of operations to the hours as set out in the Hidalgo County order.
